Honouring the past and building the future

At RAAFA, we are committed to honouring the past, being in the present and embracing the future, to engage and support the Western Australian community.

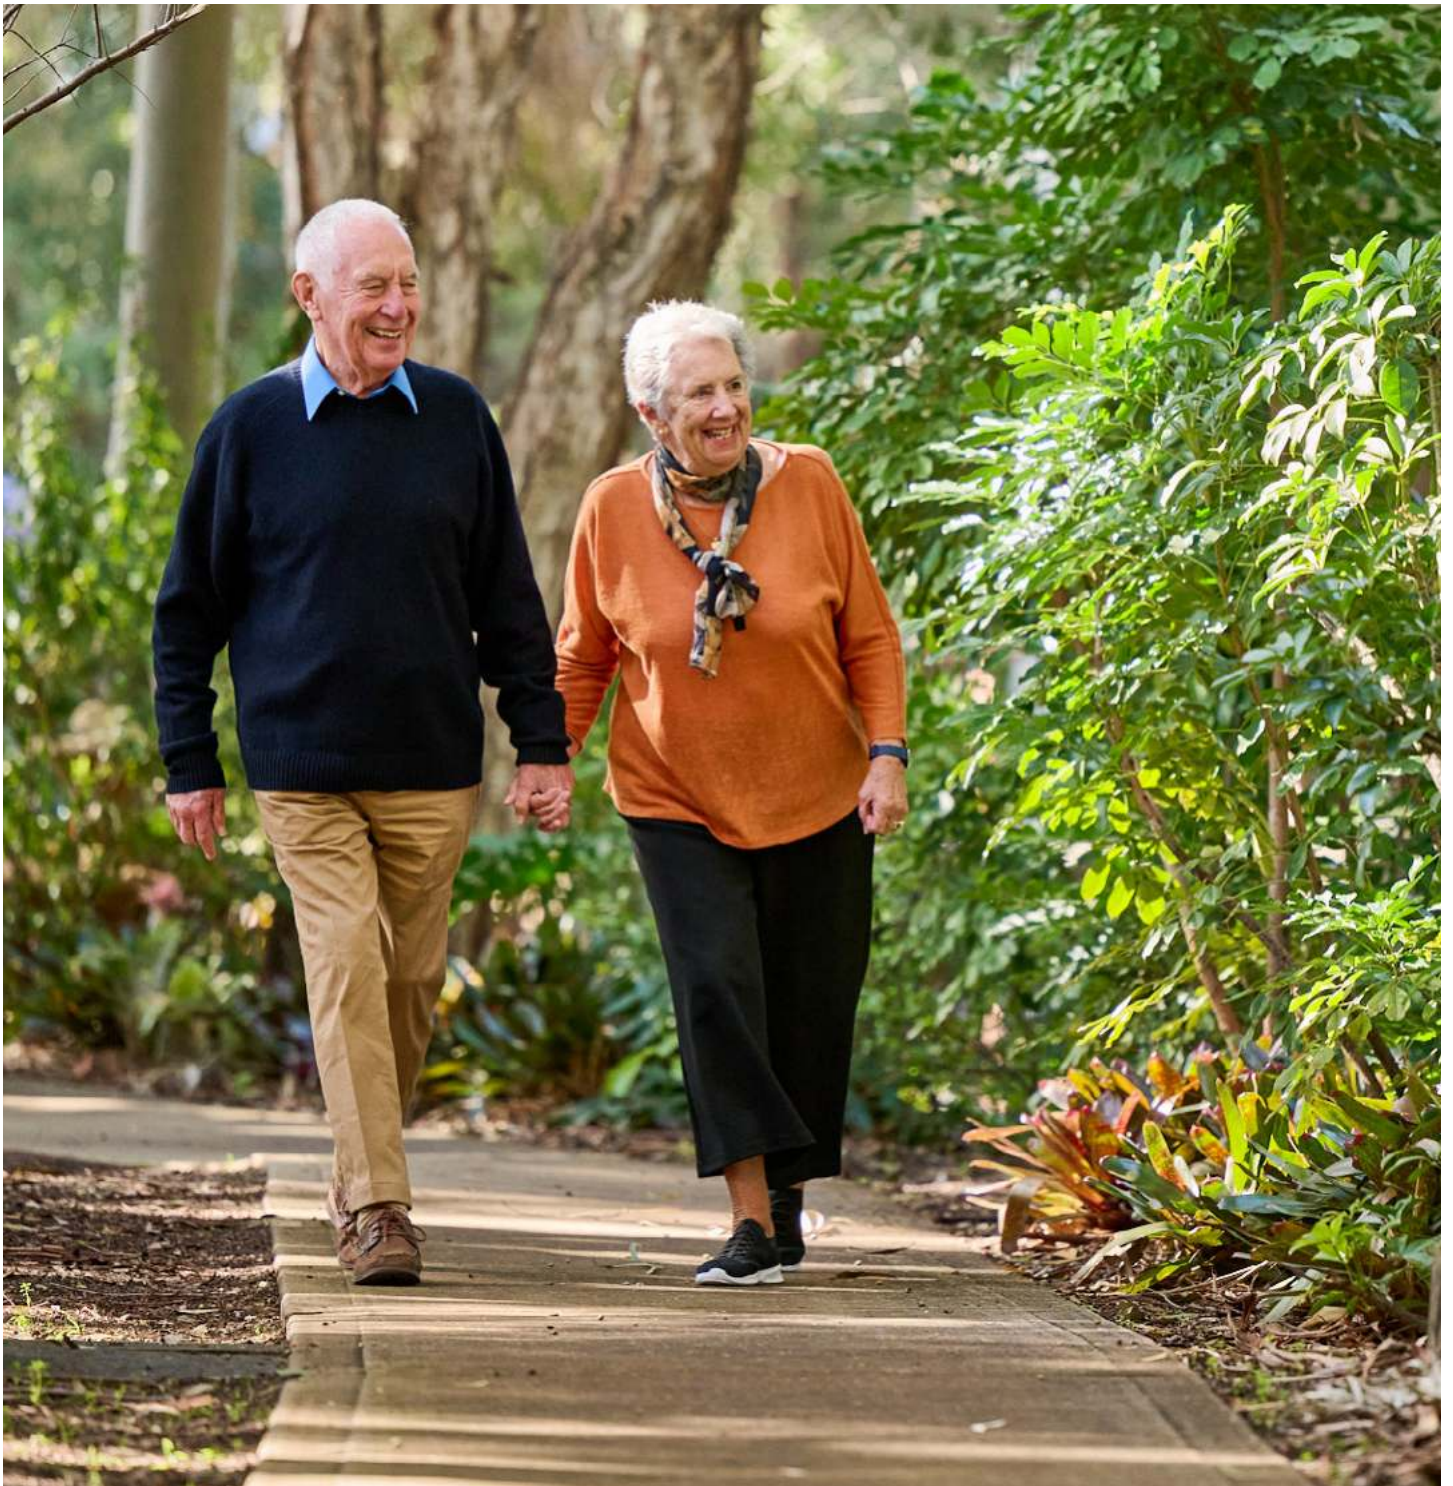

To achieve this vision, we provide a full range of services including modern retirement living, residential care, respite care, in-home care, short stay accommodation, community and veteran welfare and philanthropic activities.

In 1929, the Air Force Association (Western Australian Division) was established in Perth to continue the comradeship, spirit and values that members experienced as members of the Australian Flying Corps.

Today, RAAFA is one of the largest and most trusted not-for-profit retirement living and residential care providers in Western Australia.
